

Are you abiding by local and state laws meant to keep your patients safe?

Let Verity's Nurse Validation help you ensure compliance and quality care in your organization.

In healthcare, many regulatory bodies help ensure patient safety, quality of care and the sharing of best practices. As experts in delivering high-quality care, these entities provide requirements and recommendations around such things as license verification, certifications, registrations, and ongoing sanction/exclusion monitoring of your nursing staff.

However, regulations vary from state to state or can differ between organizations even within the same state. Knowing exactly what these compliance requirements are is crucial to delivering quality care and maintaining a top-notch nursing team. If you're responsible for validating your nursing team's credentials, ask yourself the following:

- Is your current nurse validation process aligned with the latest state compliance requirements?
- Is information around nursing staff qualifications and job responsibilities accessible to the right people in your organization?
- Is your organization wasting precious hours by manually primary-source verifying credentials when mandated by your state?

Verity's Nurse Validation solution can help.

“Credentials of care providers using the primary source when licensure, certification, or registration is required by law and regulation to practice their profession. This is done at the time of hire and at the time credentials are renewed.”

- The Joint Commission
